Message from the City Manager

To the Roseville City Council and Community:

The City Council's commitment to developing and adopting this Strategic Plan highlights the value Roseville places on community engagement, clear vision, and sound decision-making. It provides a critical roadmap that will enable us to weather challenges and leverage opportunities with a keen focus on community priorities.

In October 2019, the City Council held a public workshop to set the long-term vision for our city and our top priorities for Fiscal Year 2020-21 through Fiscal Year 2023-24. The Council decided to hold mid-term update workshops to the strategic plan and this document reflects the first update to the initial plan based on the Council workshop held in April 2021.

In terms of new circumstances, we had no idea at the last workshop in fall 2019, how many new circumstances we'd face in 2020. Our world changed under the siege of a pandemic.

A sign of a well-developed strategic plan is its ability to withstand the test of time and changing circumstances. This proved true during the pandemic. The Council's strategic plan remained relevant and an important policy document to guide budget decisions.

We now are focused on the path ahead while maintaining the fiscal responsibility that has allowed us to weather this crisis while supporting our community so strongly.

We appreciate the partnership of the City Council and the support of our community in making this a reality.

Respectfully,

Dominick Casey • July 2021

Challenges, Accomplishments and Pandemic Response

Along with the pandemic, a host of challenges arose during the past year that demanded immediate attention. These are some of the major ones:

- Immediate transition to remote work for hundreds of staff, many of whom also had to ensure remote schooling and caring for children at home while getting the City's work done
- Business continuity for City and community including administering business loans and food programs
- Economic shutdown, education, enforcement
- Revenue drops from the closure of facilities and programs
- Social justice issues
- Protecting people's constitutional right to free speech in a safe environment
- Extreme summer heat, which warranted cooling centers that had to operate within health guidelines
- Wildfires and smoke that kept us inside when businesses could only operate outside
- Public safety power shutdowns in surrounding areas that filled our hotels and businesses and prevented many of our staff from working remotely and schooling remotely without access to electricity
- Unprecedented levels of new home permits
- A new by-district election process being held in Roseville for the first time
- A high number of complex charter-amendment measures on the ballot

Recent Accomplishments

The City Council highlighted key accomplishments from the past year, including:

- Overall response to the pandemic
- Shifted available funds into strategic reserves
- Moved ahead on housing projects
- Completed the City Charter update
- Attracted new businesses
- Opened new parks
- Added police staffing
- Remained financially solvent

The City's pandemic response

The City worked quickly and strategically to mitigate effects of the shutdown on our residents and businesses. The funding for money loaned or granted in the community comes from sources other than the City's General Fund. Actions included:

- Approved providing $1 million in zero-interest loans to Roseville small businesses, which were later converted to grants using federal funding
- In addition to the $6.4 million in federal funds we administer each year to assist low-income families, the City added $500,000 to reduce homelessness and provide for rapid rehousing
- Offered a one-time credit to Roseville Electric Utility customers who qualified based on income
- Suspended fare collection on Roseville Transit to allow for social distancing on our buses
- Waived the hotel-occupancy tax on contracts to house the homeless during the pandemic
- Provided $50,000 to launch a program called Family Meal Roseville in partnership with a nonprofit organization to provide 16,000 meals over six weeks to residents in low-income complexes and at school distribution sites to those experiencing food insecurity while helping to keep six local restaurants afloat
- Preparation and processing of 17 Executive Orders to address emergency needs
- Developed a COVID-19 complaint and enforcement process that emphasized education and assistance to businesses
- Provided hands-on assistance to small businesses through loans, grants, and funding eligibilities, as well as the distribution of PPE—masks and hand sanitizer
- Launched the Electric Residential Relief Program to help community members struggling financially because of COVID-19. This short-term assistance program provided a one-time credit for multi-family and single-family residences.
- Distributed $5.1 million of federal stimulus funds for emergency rent and utility assistance for Roseville residents
- Obtained a grant which enabled $200,000 in small-business assistance through a gift card program
- Established dedicated website for COVID-19 information that had 100,000 unique visits in 2020

Continued Response to COVID-19

After reviewing the City's continued response to the pandemic, Council adopted the following priorities through the end of the pandemic:

- Return to normal operations as soon as possible through continuing work with the County and other partners.
- Continue providing assistance to small businesses and residents, if feasible.
- Identify customer-service improvements and operating efficiencies to maintain beyond the pandemic, such as increased use of video platforms for public presentations and the adoption of a remote-work policy.

Results of the National Community Survey

The City of Roseville participated in the National Community Survey in January-March 2021, conducted by Polco in partnership with the International City/County Management Association. The survey provided insight on residents' perceptions of city services and priorities and helps inform city operations and focus areas.

Most of Roseville rankings were higher than both the national average (of 500 cities) and the custom benchmark (of 50 cities nationally of similar size of 100,000-200,000 population). Many rankings were in the top 10 nationally and several were No. 1 in the nation.

The survey was mailed to 3,000 residences throughout the city in January and offered in Spanish as well. The survey had a plus or minus 5 percent margin of error. An open participation version of the survey was offered in February and March.

Analysis of the results showed exceptionally positive and strong results for Roseville and covered the community's concerns regarding homelessness and services for the unhoused.

- Roseville received the No. 1 ranking as a place to live, for its reputation and image, quality of utility infrastructure, electric utility, wastewater utility, and storm water management.
- No. 2 in the custom benchmark for quality of services provided by the city, overall customer service provided by city employees, and overall economic health.
- In addition, 95% of residents rated Roseville as an excellent or good place to raise children and 83% as a place to retire, both higher than national and custom and benchmarks.
- Overall quality of parks and recreation opportunities was also higher than the custom benchmark at 94% rating as excellent or good, along with recreation centers, availability of paths and walking trails, preservation of open space. 92% gave public library services high marks.
- In terms of safety, 91% rated their overall feeling of safety in Roseville as good or excellent, and the rating jumped to 97% for how safe residents feel in their neighborhood during the day. Fire services received a 97% rating for excellent or good quality.

- At 97%, the overall quality of the utility infrastructure was ranked much higher than the national average.
- Looking at community design, Roseville ranked higher than the custom benchmark for overall appearance, well-designed neighborhoods, overall design and layout of residential and commercial areas, quality of new development, and for both well-planned residential and commercial growth.
- In the areas of mobility, Roseville ranked above the custom benchmark for ease of parking, ease of travel by bicycle, street lighting, street cleaning, sidewalk maintenance, traffic signal maintenance, traffic signal timing, bus or transit services, and street repair.
- The two areas across dozens of data points where Roseville ranked lower than the benchmark were using bus, rail or other public transportation instead of driving, and how important respondents felt it was in the next two years for the Roseville community to focus on residents' connection and engagement with their community.

Government performance was an area in which Roseville received among the highest rankings in the nation, including for the value of services for taxes paid to Roseville, the overall direction that Roseville is taking, generally acting in the best interest of the community, treating residents with respect, treating all residents fairly, being honest, being open and transparent to the public, overall confidence in Roseville government, information residents about issues facing the community, and the job Roseville government does at welcoming resident involvement.

2. Revitalize core neighborhoods
3. Prioritize completion of crucial corridors, ensuring water resiliency, and modernizing the electric utility

Goal description:

Recognizing Roseville's long-term land-use and infrastructure planning efforts, the community is increasingly affected by regional traffic and congestion, aging infrastructure, and issues in infill development and older neighborhoods that warrant the investment of resources to mitigate and offset these issues to preserve Roseville's quality of life.

Strategic Plan communication

City staff will report on progress of the strategic initiatives throughout the year. It is anticipated that in odd-numbered years, a City Council Priorities Workshop will be held. In even-numbered years, it is anticipated that City Council will review progress during a regular council meeting in September or October.

In addition, staff will highlight the plan's implementation throughout the year by linking operational actions to the strategic plan using communication tools such as council agenda items, newsletters and social media, speeches, presentations, and community meetings.

Providing timely information to stakeholders is critical to the success of the City.
